

The Most Epic Non-Functioning 3d Printed Rubber Band Gun In The World Version 2

The Most Epic Non-Functioning 3d Printed Rubber Band Gun In The World. Made by me. Its non functioning because I fell asleep instead of making sure the trigger could slide once every hour or so, and the trigger BROKE. But its still quite pretty. Its now a prop rubber band gun, because it does not work.

If any theatre guilds nearby me in NYC or on the other side of the Hudson - need prop weapons, I am happy to gift this to a production or set designer, please feel free to PM me about it.

Don't point toy guns at people, its not cool. Also, don't hurt each other. Love each other instead.

Version2 - because even though I was careful there was a music claim. I never get any money for my videos, so this strike would allow someone else to, and that isn't fair. Especially when I got the music from Sound Cloud - and it was supposed to be royalty free.
