

WAIT - Don't Throw Out Your Old eSun Spools - they might be reusable!!

I am a fan of reusable filament spools. I noticed similar qualities between the eSun wood filament spool and my reusable spools from inland. Here I do a comparison and you can see for yourself! If you have one of these and you are ready to switch to spool-less filament, there is no time like now - also you can pick up the reusable spools for around 6 bucks at microcenter.
