

I Can't Believe I didn't have a plan! Making an impromptu chisel set holder out of wood...

I made a chisel holder, without a plan. Next time there will be a plan! I literally was just practicing and it turned into something. I'm not looking for perfection, but I hope to improve.

Woodworking is far different than 3d modeling, so I think this will take some time. I am excited that this turned out OK. I even used Danish Oil because I wanted to practice something to the end of the process.

**ADDITIONAL THOUGHTS****

I know this could have been tons better! It was made from scrap that I was just going to practice on and the idea just hit me. It's filled with imperfections and one of them may be height. We have to start where we are and go from there, and I am excited about that could be!

Leave me a comment if you have tips (obviously I needed to measure) and I appreciate the fact you read this and watched the video....
