

This turned out So Awesome! Light Panel Finale: Modshapes

We complete our casting of resin panels to use in the elemental lamp. One more example of the casting process, and a review of the entire experience and results. PAM, or mold release, is not really efficient in the casting process as it causes occlusion.

ADDITIONAL THOUGHTS

The process of casting resin: mix parts 1:1 by volume

I like to mix around 1 oz of each part twice, in two different cups. I like to let the bubbles rise
